Customer service involves much more than answering questions over the phone. Responding to tickets through email, live chat, and social media are equally important communication channels for customers. While there's plenty of overlap in the customer service skills required to do a great job, each customer service channel benefits from a unique approach to these skills.

Consistent and thorough customer service training is essential—even when customers already seem satisfied. LinkedIn reports that only 4 percent of disappointed customers complain to staff members, but nine out of 10 never return. Internal customer service training must be standardized to avoid serious discrepancies that result in customer churn.
